Initial meeting of County Charter Advisory Committee set

~Pasco County Government sets up website for citizens ~

PASCO COUNTY --- The initial meeting of the Pasco County Charter Advisory Committee has been set for Monday, May 11, 2015 at the Pasco School Board's District Office complex, Building #3 North - Board room, 7205 Land O'Lakes Boulevard, Land O'Lakes, FL 34638. The meeting will start at 2:30 p.m.

The public is welcome to attend all of the County Charter Advisory Committee meetings.

The Pasco Board of County Commissioners (BCC) and Pasco County's Florida Legislative Delegation appointed 15 members to serve on the Pasco County Charter Advisory Committee.

The Committee will meet, study, and make recommendations on whether or not to support developing a Charter form of government in Pasco County. The Committee is expected to spend the next year working on the issue and will report their findings to the BCC.

Pasco County has also set up a website so citizens can be informed on the Charter Advisory Committee. The website will have information related to Charter Government including: documents timeline, web links, important dates, and Florida Statutes.

Citizens can also sign up to receive updates via the County Notify Me section, just go the following link and follow the instructions:
